UNUSUAL GIFTS TO BE FOUND IN THE 'WOMEN'S CORNER'

These are suggestions offered not in spite of but because of the numerous queries received daily at the "Woman's Corner" at the George A. Lowe company, where objects for which you are looking can be found:

Those wonderful brass and nickel electric percolators which entail the relinquishment of $5.00, some more, some less, resemble the Russian samovar when only brass was used in its construction.

Then those durable and almost indispensable iron baking dishes set into nickel frames, any style from round to oval, tremendously attractive, for Uncle Sam's $2.25.

Egg dishes, too, and waste paper baskets that serve in hiding such innocent scraps.

Who will ever think of the "futed board" for a plank steak, or the carving set, so indispensable?

The transparent oven glassware which science has converted into splendid use—it is both ornamental and useful—and you can see it in our basement, which has new fittings and every convenience for the modern tradesman and here, too, you find aluminum ware of every variety and choice.

We could fill a page telling you of the many sided interests you will find in our store, not forgetting the basement, where so many suggestions for the gift and for the home await your inspection.—Advertisement.

BIRTHDAYS ARE CELEBRATED.

Last evening Mrs. G. O. Bartlett delightfully entertained at her home, 2844 Grant, in honor of Mr. Bartlett, Sr., Mr. G. O. Bartlett, Mr. M. A. James and Master Myron Russell, the occasion being their birthdays. Mrs. Bartlett entertained her guests with very interesting games. Mr. Clarence Jones won first prize. Miss Helen Bartlett gave several pleasing piano selections, her 10 o'clock birthday being celebrated with a delicious buffet luncheon.

The birthday cakes, three in number, were decorated in the national colors with the candles forming the letters U. S. A., which made a very beautiful effect.

At 12 o'clock the guests departed, declaring Mrs. Bartlett a very charming and interesting hostess.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, Sr., Dr. and Mrs. Frank Bartlett, Louise, Helen and Jay Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones, Mrs. Mary Russell, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. James, Mr. James, Sr., and Mrs. J. M. Russell, Clarence Jones and Master Myron Russell.

CAMP J. NAMED FOR PIONEER.

Mrs. Eliza Stevens entertained the Daughters of the Pioneers, Camp J., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wilcox, last Thursday, when the hours were delightfully spent reminiscing of other days. The life of Mrs. Martha Critchlow was read by Miss Wilcox and it will be interesting to the families of early days to know that Camp J. was named for one of the first pioneers, Mrs. Mary Watts Kay, whose early life was spent in England and who, on learning of the new church, crossed the sea in 1844, later crossing the plains with her husband, William Kay, and one daughter.

The afternoon closed with music, in which Mrs. Lester Saville and Miss Katherine Murphy, delighted those present.

MISS DOUGLAS AND MISS RICH HONORED.

One of the very loveliest affairs of the week was that given yesterday by Mrs. Evelyn Eccles, Mrs. J. O. Douglas and Miss Vivian Douglas, when they were at home from 4 to 6, to bring together friends of Miss Ruth Douglas and Miss Oertel Rich. Assisting and receiving was Mrs. Miles Alonzo Romney.

During these hours the guests were received in the drawing and music rooms, where the Lillian Thatcher orchestra played clever selections from many an opera.

At 5 o'clock guests ascended to the ball room, to the music of warbling canaries, imprisoned in the quaintest style. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. Marian Banks and it was centered with a large cut glass basket of the Marie Antoinette style, filled with roses of pink. Surrounding this lovely motif were candied rose petals, giving a distinctiveness so seldom seen.

The color scheme of the ball room was in king's blue and rose pink. Small tables of the vis-a-vis, so popular now, surrounded the large tea table and had in the center of each a pink, candied, full-blown rose candlestick, which held in its center petals a tall old-blue candle. Pink candied rose leaves were laid as if they had just fallen, over the snowy damask, and they were interspersed with Dorothy Vernon roses in pink. The Dresden effect was perfect, including the plain pink place cards tied with tiny bow of blue. At the place of each prospective bride was a set of gold beauty pins, the "Honores," Miss Rich and Miss Douglas receiving exquisite stationery with accompanying die.

About seventy-five guests were bidden.

Fidelus Club.

STEAM SHOVEL IS AT WORK ON 28TH STREET MONDAY EVENING AT ARMORY

Active excavation work has been started by P. J. Moran on the proposed paving of Twenty-eighth street, an immense steam shovel loading wagons as it takes off the old surface between Grant and Lincoln avenues. The activity of the contracting company has attracted some attention because of the fact that injunction proceedings against the paving work are now before the district court, to which a number of property owners have appealed. The contractors recently finished the work of making sewer extensions to unimproved property along the street and many of the residents anticipated that no actual paving work would be undertaken until the courts had settled the question of jurisdiction. The steam shovel was moved into place yesterday, wagons were loaded during the day and this morning there were more men and more teams handling the task.

SMOKER TO BE GIVEN MONDAY EVENING AT ARMORY

That enough enlistments have been secured in Ogden for two complete troops of cavalry was announced this morning by Lieutenant J. E. Farley, in charge of the recruiting offices for the Utah National guard. However, there are four more places to be filled in Troop K, because some of the enlistments have been for the new troop that is to be organized. The rolls now show 210 officers and enlisted men, the recruiting officer stated.

The latest recruits were Frank Day, enroute, Thomas E. Bennett, Martin L. Fenstermaker, George W. West and Rudolph D. Calhoun, who enlisted last evening. They all joined Troop K. Recruiting offices have been opened in the Ogden Electric Supply company store on Washington avenue.

The program will be one of real interest.

Finn, with the Amalgamated Sugar company as garnishee defendant and H. I. Child and Mary M. Child as intervenors has been appealed to the district court. Judge Barker in the municipal court gave a verdict in favor of the furniture company for $45.30 principal and $29.10 costs, the company suing for $74.10.

COUNTY GRADUATES AT EXERCISES IN THE TABERNACLE

A great throng of Weber county parents and school children gathered this morning in the Ogden Tabernacle to celebrate, with the graduates, the twenty-seventh annual eighth grade commencement exercises of the Weber county schools. The graduates, 151 in number, occupied the choir loft, making a great chorus, which several times delighted the audience. The auditorium was filled to capacity and had it been twice as large there would have been little space to spare, as the county people were deeply interested in the event.

Superintendent W. N. Peterson presided at the ceremonies and with him on the rostrum were seated the following members of the board of education:

Francis W. Stratford, president; John Hallis, vice president; A. C. Christensen, H. L. Shurtliff, John Wheeler, L. H. Froerer, clerk; Norman Bingham, treasurer; Albert J. Powell, music supervisor; Jennie C. Neal, primary supervisor, and other prominent people. The schools represented by the graduates were: Eden, Harrisville, Hooper, Huntsville, Kanab, Liberty, Marriott, North Ogden, Plain City, Pleasant View, Riverside, Roy, Starville, Taylor, Uintah, West Weber, Wilson and West Warren.

The program was admirably planned, all of the singing being done by the chorus of graduates, a fine demonstration of the efficient service being rendered by Supervisor Powell and his associates in this department of school work. To this music was added a beautiful organ solo by Sam F. Whitaker, tabernacle organist, and an equally pleasing violin solo by Paul Wheeler, a child musician of musical promise. The speakers, Vice President John Hall of the school board, and Superintendent E. S. Hinckley of the Utah State Industrial school, put their hearts into the advice they gave the graduates. Both delved deep into their life experiences to deliver words of character building power, and their audience, young and old, were manifestly impressed by their remarks. Superintendent Peterson also added some excellent advice before performing the pleasant duty of presenting the certificates of promotion to the young people, most of whom will next year enter the high schools of Ogden.

The complete program was as follows: Violin Prelude—Paul Wheeler. Invocation.

(a) Saint Lucia (Italian air); (b) Star Spangled Banner (Key)—Chorus. Remarks—Vice President School Board John Hall.

OFFICES TO BE KEPT TO REGISTER FOR WAR DRAFT

In order that Ogden and Weber county young men who will be away from home next Tuesday, June 5, may enlist under the national army law, County Clerk Ramey and City Recorder Richey will keep their offices open tonight and Monday night until 9 o'clock.

Hundreds of young men living in Ogden temporarily are now sending out registration cards to other cities, transients and travelers are preparing cards and sending them while making brief stops here, and many Ogden and Weber county men are preparing cards in order that they can be filed in their absence next Tuesday. The offices of the county clerk and the city recorder have, as a result, been two of the busiest places in the city today and even greater rushes are expected to-night.

PLEADS GUILTY AND IS SENTENCED BY JUDGE AGEE

Probably establishing a record for procedure in Weber county criminal cases, John Hudson waived his preliminary hearing, pleaded guilty to the charge against him and was sentenced within less than a half hour in the district court today. Hudson was charged with burglary and was sentenced to a term of from six months to three years in the state prison.

Hudson was brought before Judge Agee on a complaint issued by County Attorney Farr. He waived his preliminary hearing when brought before Judge Agee. His case was immediately called and he entered a plea of guilty, sentence being pronounced at once. He will be sent to the state prison by Sheriff Peterson on Monday.

The case was the result of several burglaries of dental offices on May 24, Dr. S. W. Wherry's offices being among those raided by the burglar. Hudson was arrested in Salt Lake on May 24 and brought to Ogden for trial.

FOUND GUILTY ON A CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

Jimmy Furnya, alias Jimmy Hogan, was found guilty this noon on a charge of grand larceny, the verdict being returned in Judge Pratt's division of the district court by a jury. The case was heard Friday afternoon and this morning.

Furnya was charged with taking $50. the property of another Japanese from Garland. Practically all of the testimony given by the Japanese witnesses in the case was presented through an interpreter. Furnya has not been sentenced, although the verdict of the jury means that a penitentiary term can be imposed upon him.

W. H. Shearman, vice president and general manager of the Security State bank, has been selected as secretary and treasurer of the Utah Municipal league, his appointment to that position having been announced by Mayor A. ORCHARDISTS ASKING FOR HIGHER PRICES FOR APRICOTS

Marketing of the immense fruit crop of Weber county this year, the product of 2300 acres of tree-covered land, is the problem before the canning products committee of the Weber county farm bureau. Exactly how the fruit crop will be marketed, where it can be marketed and what prices can be obtained in different places will be problems considered by the committee from every angle.

Under a resolution passed several weeks ago, the committee is urging the farmers of the county not to contract for the sale of crops of any kind at the present time. This resolution applies alike to fruit, potatoes, hay and grain. Canners are now taking up the subject of contracts for fruit with the farmers. So far the price set has not been satisfactory to the committee, who believe that a higher figure should be paid than is offered for either apricots or cherries. The Utah canners are offering about $30 per ton for apricots, which will be the first crop on the market. The farmers say the orchards are not profitable at that figure.

WATTIS COAL CO. HAS BEEN ORGANIZED BY OGDEN MEN

Incorporation papers of the Wattis Coal company, organized by Ogden and Salt Lake men to develop mines on property in Carbon county, were filed this morning in the office of County Clerk Ramey. The new Ogden corporation is capitalized at $800,000, the principal stockholders being E. O. Wattis and M. S. Browning.

The company is incorporated with rights to own property, operate mines, build and operate railroad lines and to handle mining propositions in every necessary way.

Two hundred acres of coal land located about ten miles from Moreland, on the line of the Utah railway and near the Black Hawk coal mine, has been purchased by the company from E. O. Wattis and M. S. Browning, who recently secured this property. It will be developed at once.

The officers of the company are E. O. Wattis, president; M. S. Browning, and L. R. Wattis, vice presidents; L. F. Rains, secretary, and Marriner Browning
